Customer	The Times Educational Supplement
Summary	The website publishes all jobs from the weekly Times Educational Supplement (TES)

New jobs are posted on the site every Friday at the same time that the weekly newspaper goes on sale throughout the UK. The site automatically sends 1000s of personalized email alerts and SMS alerts to inform users about new jobs.

TES chose Rosetta in 1997 to build and manage their jobs websites after a competitive selection process and has been a client of Rosetta ever since.

- Easy to use website
- Save jobs and personal information in "My TES"
- SMS alerts and email alerts when new jobs are advertised
- Powerful searching includes "jobs near my postcode"

Rosetta's website is both a front-end and back-end solution. This means TES not only publish jobs for their users but can also manage their ads, users, classifications, e-mail and SMS alerts and generate detailed reports, all via a browser interface.

This customer now also uses Rosetta System 6.3 to manage 2 other jobs websites for their sister publications THES and Nursery World with load-balanced web servers and clustered database.
